

Local Opticians Is Tops

Ex-Bournemouth Mayoress and Mayor visit to KC Opticians earlier this year

Local Independent Opticians have topped the recent survey carried out by the WHICH report (July 2014)... “Head to your local Independent Opticians if you’re looking for the best place to buy glasses.”

Well-established names like Boots, Vision Express and Specsavers lagged far behind in the survey, and Tesco Opticians was almost at the bottom!

“I am not surprised,” says Mr Ramesh Lal, Managing Optician at KC Opticians in Kinson, “I have worked in different types of Opticians and the big names have become very retail and cost orientated.

Here at KC Opticians, we make a commitment to find a balance between the traditional service and the modern technology. Every person is individually treated without a conveyor-belt system. Eye care and stylish glasses are available at affordable prices in a comfortable environment.”

KC Opticians have now been open for almost 18 months and well over a thousand customers have trusted them for their eye care.

Mr Ramesh Lal continued, “As professional Opticians, your eye test and eye health form an important part of our procedures. We also think that looking good and feeling good about your glasses, sunglasses or contact lenses is important too. So KC Opticians want you to have healthy eyes and look good in the eyewear you choose. We will help you with both.”

The team includes Hazel Green who has vast experience in optical dispensing and believes in personal customer service.

Kinson and surrounding areas of East Howe, West Howe, Northbourne, Bearcross, and Bearwood had been without Opticians and eye care for almost a year until KC Opticians appeared on the scene.

KC Opticians is very keen to be part of the local Community and indeed when asked about the letters KC..., Mr Lal replied, “KC stands for Kinson Community, and we are proud to be part of this great community and look forward to the exciting changes taking place for the area.”
